Washington Roundup

(International News Service)
Today marks the second anniversary of the fall of Corregidor and the feeling among naval and military men in Washington is that the fortress and the rest of the Philippines will be avenged in the not too distant future. Powerful American land, sea and air forces are now driving westward relentlessly in a Jap-killing campaign designed for Philippine reconquest.

Meanwhile, another name is being injected into speculation over the successor to the late Frank Knox who built up America's huge Jap-fighting navy. Rumors are increasing that President Roosevelt is preparing to choose for the naval secretary post will be Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, a former Republican and secretary of war in President Hoover's cabinet.

As another pre-invasion move against Japan's war partner—Germany—it is disclosed this government may place the famous SKF Ballbearing Company on its black list to help bring Sweden into line with the Allies and halt shipments of war-vital ballbearings to the Nazis. Economic warfare experts reveal a "very active investigation" of the matter is under way.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) meanwhile proposes that Britain and other United Nations repay lend-lease in part by replenishing oil and other minerals America has lavishly expended in the war. Ellender will support extension of the lend-lease act in the Senate Monday, but he forced delay in consideration so he can obtain more information about reverse lend-lease.

Speculation is rife that induction of men under 26 might delay drafting of older registrants for several more months. Selective service announced the poll of under-26 men now totals nearly 1.7 million.

Oil Supplies In Romania Are Bomb Targets

Repeated Allied Air Attacks Are Being Made On Ploesti Production

REFINERIES ARE HEAVILY BLASTED

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, May 6.—Striking of Romania for the second time within 18 hours, strong formations of Halifax and Wellington night bombers pounded railroad and oil storage targets at Campina in a furious pre-dawn assault today.

The attack on Campina, 19 miles northwest of Ploesti, came in the wake of a daylight strike at Ploesti, the Turnu-Severin rail junction on the Danube and the Yugoslav communication hub of Podgorica by some 500 American heavy bombers.

Guided By Fires
The raiders of Campina were guided to their targets by vast fires still burning at Ploesti as a result of the afternoon Liberator and fortress assault.

Campina, hit for the first time by the RAF, refines 13 per cent of Romania's oil. The third largest refinery in Europe.

Allied Forces Making Gains Near Kohima

By VINCENT DE SILVA (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

KANDY, Ceylon, May 6.—The 14th allied army, strongly reinforced with fresh men and tank forces, drove the Japanese invaders of India from several more strategic positions today and inflicted heavy casualties upon the enemy "at all points" on the Kohima front.

The official communique from Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters, reporting on "satisfactory progress" of the new drive, said that the Jap jungle troops were cleared from a number of positions.

"The allied advance continues," said the announcement, "Many Japanese are being killed."

Within northern Burma, meanwhile, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's American and Chinese forces scored additional gains in their drive toward the vital Myittha-Mendaya railroad, the enemy defenses near Lukhraw river, while their advance south of captured Imphal continued. Below the fallen stronghold, taken from the enemy after five days of bitter fighting, the American-led forces lightened a trap on some 1,000 Japs.

GANDHI GIVEN HIS FREEDOM

POONA, India, May 6.—(INS)—Seventy-four-year-old Mohandas K. Gandhi, spiritual leader of millions of India's Moslems and chief of the nationalist party, was freed from internment for the first time in nearly two years today.

The emaciated, malaria-ridden Mahatma, released unconditionally by British authorities only because of his poor health, left the Aga Khan's palatial residence at Poona at 8 o'clock this morning.

Gandhi, interned in August, 1942 for advocating civil disobedience through non-violence despite a threatened Japanese invasion of India, was taken by Col. M. G. Bhandari, inspector-general of prisons, to "Parnakuti," the imposing home of wealthy Lady Thackersey, an old friend of the Mahatma.

Weather Has Vital Role In Invasion

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG (Written Especially for International News Service)

London newspapers recently arrived in this country quote British North Sea pilots to the effect that June is by far the calmest month of the year on that stormy body of water and its southern arm, the English Channel.

According to the British sea dogs, during the 50 or more years over which exact records have been kept, June has averaged only six days when wind velocities rose above 20 knots, while July, next calmest month, averaged nine days of 20-mile-plus winds. Any wind velocity higher than the 20-knot limit is likely to kick up the nasty swells and chop-seas for which the North Sea and the Channel are famous.

Ordinarily, speculations of this kind concerning the weather would be of concern only to tourists, but

American Girl Bride In London

Daughter Of Former U. S. Ambassador Kennedy Married To Marquis Of Hartington

KATHLEEN KENNEDY

LONDON, May 6.—(INS)—Kathleen Kennedy, 24, second oldest daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former U. S. ambassador to the Court of St. James, became the Marchioness of Hartington today in a 10-minute ceremony in the Chelsea register's office.

In a wartime wedding, the young American girl became the bride of the Marquis of Hartington, 26-year-old son and heir to the Duke of Devonshire, and captain in the famed Coldstream Guards.

Arriving at the registry office, Miss Kennedy was accompanied by her brother, Lieut. Joseph Kennedy of the U. S. Navy. Much of the pose gained years ago when she was employed as a reporter on a Washington newspaper seemed to leave her as she mounted the stairs.

County Men Go For Induction

Delegation From County Board Two Leaves Friday Evening To Enter Service

Men summoned for induction in the U. S. army by County Board Two left via the Pennsylvania R. R. Friday evening for the New Cumberland induction center, where they will be sworn into service.

There was a large crowd of relatives and friends on hand to bid them farewell and they were presented with the usual kits by the Service Men's Aid Association of the USO.

Departure weather was rather inclement, a heavy shower occurring as the men boarded the bus which took them to the seventh ward to board their train for camp.

Siamese Twins Are Pneumonia Victims

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 6.—(INS)—Joyce and Sandra, blonde Siamese twins born Sunday to Mrs. Mary Stierly, 24-year-old widow, died of pneumonia today in Phoenixville hospital.

Doctors had given the twins little chance for survival. They were joined at the pelvis and Sandra, smaller of the two, had a poor circulatory system.

Death struck Joyce and then Sandra a few minutes later although physicians had expected Sandra to die first.

FATEFUL MAY DAYS HOLD INVASION SECRET

Meteorologically, the most favorable conditions for invasion are at hand. Around the world the fateful prediction has been passed: "Sometime in May." Those who watch the tides, the moon and the weather forecast: "May 1 to May 3." War correspondents pooled their wisdom and voted "May 6 to 9" as the best chance for the invasion. Others say May 17 has everything "sounded" for the invasion. Well, here is a calendar and a map showing various directions mentioned for the invasion. From the east and the west, the major drives are expected to be launched simultaneously. From the south, the thrust may spread from Corsica and Sardinia to France. From Italy, a thrust may be made into the Balkans, it is reported, will head straight for Berlin across Poland and the channel coast thrust may swing from Norway and Denmark to Calais or Dieppe.

Seek Identity Of Woman In Trunk Murder

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—(INS)—A nationwide hunt for a "John Lopez" was under way today as the probable perpetrator of a gruesome trunk murder mystery that rivals the bizarre Winnie Ruth Judd case of 13 years ago.

At the same time authorities began wading through a welter of clues to identify the victim, a woman whose nearly nude body was crammed into an old trunk and expressed from Chicago to Los Angeles last Sunday.

So far there has been nothing to indicate who the woman was, but jammed in around her body apparently to hold it in place were numerous articles of clothing, a hand towel from Chicago's Fleetwood hotel, a hotel travel rug and other articles.

Shipped From Chicago
The trunk was shipped from Chicago by "John Lopez" and was consigned to him in Los Angeles, with the notation that he would call for it at the Express office.

Search for him was begun when a check with Chicago authorities disclosed that a man who went by that name and also by the name of Stanislaus Orlowski of Springfield, Mass., declared today in a special broadcast from Moscow.

The Polish-born Catholic priest's radio address was made especially for the population of Poland which now is under the German yoke.

"Poland no longer should be a corridor through which the enemy can pass at will to destroy Russia," he said.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(INS)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) proposed today that Great Britain and other United Nations repay lend-lease in part by replenishing oil and other minerals America has expended lavishly in the war.

Ellender said he would support extension of the lend-lease act in the Senate on Monday. He forced delay in consideration, however, so he can obtain more information about reverse lend-lease.

Starved And Dejected Japs Surrender In Larger Numbers In New Guinea

By GEORGE LAIT (U.S. Staff Correspondent)
GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, May 6.—American land, sea and air forces—striking new blows in the Philippines—mattered badly battered Japanese troops in northern and northwestern New Guinea today, the second anniversary of the fall of Corregidor.

May Japs Surrender
While the coordinated U. S. blows forced starved and dejected Japs to surrender in unprecedented numbers in the Hollandia and Aitape regions, American bombers ranged far to the west to blast reinforced enemy air garrisons in the Schouten Island area of Dutch New Guinea. These islands are 350 miles beyond captured Hollandia.

Reconnaissance operations recently disclosed that the Japs are building up their air strength in the Schoutens.

Strengthening of the enemy's air garrisons indicated intent to promote at least a show-down battle in northwestern New Guinea, which some observers consider a potential

Bombers Blast Invasion Coast Despite Storms

Amphibious Operations Are Halted By Storms But Air Raids Continue

SEAS EXTREMELY ROUGH TODAY

By JOHN E. LEE (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 6.—The invasion-eve offensive against Hitler's Europe thundered into its 20th straight day when some 250 American Liberators, escorted by an equal number of fighters, fought through gale-like winds to pound Pas de Calais coastal defenses in northern France today.

The raiding bombers, which crossed waters whipped by winds that ruled out any amphibious operations but failed to ground Allied armor, were escorted by deadly U. S. Mustangs. Lightning and Thunderbolt fighters.

Heavy Gales
After a wild night, when 60-mile gales hurled rollers from Dover to the French coast and back, the seas still were extremely rough this morning, although the wind had moderated somewhat. Despite a low cloud ceiling and a misty rain, visibility was fair.

During the night, the air ministry announced, RAF bombers mined enemy waters without loss. Indicating nuisance raiders may have been over the continent, the Luxembourg and Paris radios went off the air.

Nazi sea-front jitters, however, were momentarily soothed as a result of the storm lashing the western European coast. Great wave rollers, so huge they would swamp any small invasion craft, have been churning the waters of the Dover Straits and the English Channel since mid-afternoon yesterday.

Can Relax Today
A Berlin broadcast, commenting on the gales, said "the German people can relax today as far as a channel invasion is concerned."

Before the storm broke, hundreds of German soldiers were seen in the Channel.

Watch Developments Along Mississippi

ST. LOUIS, May 6.—(INS)—U. S. army engineers were standing by today on the lookout for unexpected developments along the Mississippi river following the dynamiting of a section of the levee near Gales, Ill.

Meanwhile the Mississippi continued to fall although expected to rise again when water from the slowly rising Missouri river empties into it.

The newspaper said it had learned, however, that traffic of this commodity will not cease entirely and the cut will be more in the nature of a gesture to emphasize the Anglo-Portuguese alliance.

If some smart lad with inventive brains who wanted to help a bit, would take some time and devise a scheme that would help out folks, this is it. I'd recommend that he conure up a towel to speak or sing, and one would know, with soap in his eyes, just where he could reach that thing. And tempers I know would be greatly improved if the towel could only say just where it was when you need it most, it's damp, fifty-nine today.

finery in Europe, turning out a million tons of crude oil yearly, the plants have direct pipelines to the Black Sea.

Twenty-four Allied warplanes were lost in the day-and-night operations, during which some 1,960 separate sorties were flown and the vital Torre Dame near Pescara was breached in a dramatic precision bombing assault by RAF fighters-bombers.

New Sortie Record

The day and night raids set a new record for the number of sorties flown and for the weight of bombs dropped by Mediterranean-based warplanes, headquarters announced. Bomb tonnage was not disclosed, however.

Eleven Nazi planes were downed in the course of the operations, according to a communique from Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson's headquarters. While the lull on the ground fronts was interrupted only by small, patrol clashes at several points, the Mediterranean air forces maintained their round-the-clock offensive against Nazi communications in Italy.

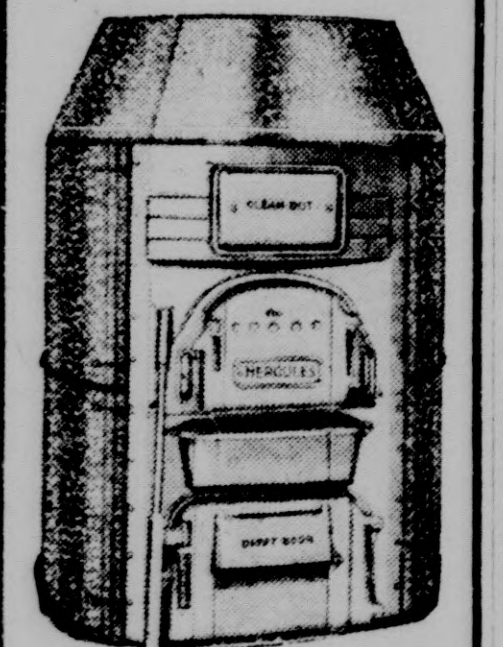

The United States has provided upwards of 85 per cent of all aviation gasoline and 70 per cent of all petroleum products used by the United Nations so far in the war.

way to the pink carnation-filled room where the ceremony was to take place.

The wedding ring was an old heirloom of the Devonshire family.

No Religious Ceremony

Generally a religious ceremony follows the civil service in Britain when a "mixed" marriage occurs. Such was not the case today, however. Miss Kennedy is a Catholic and the Marquis is an adherent of the Church of England. The Duke of Rutland, who served as best man, announced there would be no religious ceremony "today" and declined to elaborate.

The reception, at which some 200 guests were present, was held at the home of Lady Hamilton because the Duke of Devonshire's town house had been devastated during the London blitz.

Miss Kennedy wore a delphinium sapphire crepe dress beneath a short jacket of brown mink and a hat of pink and blue ostrich feathers.

The couple met while the bride's father headed the American embassy at London.

of Allied warplanes, paced by some 250 American Liberators, pounded the French invasion coast and three rail junctions in northern France through which Nazi anti-invasion forces must be shuttled to oppose the Allied second front assault.

Pas De Calais defenses were hit by Mustang-escorted Liberators of the Eighth U. S. Air Force; Thunderbolt fighter-bombers blasted the key rail yards at Valenciennes and Somme, within ten miles of the Belgian border; and Mitchells and Spitfires of the second tactical air force battered the rail center of Cambrai, ten miles still farther south.

The only German fighter formation that dared attack the raiders lost four planes. No Allied bombs or fighters were downed.

WEATHER HAS VITAL ROLE IN INVASION

today with vast American and British amphibious forces poised for a thrust at fortified Europe, they possess far wider interest.

Weather Plays Big Part

Weather, which has always played a mighty part in mankind's wars, will undoubtedly assume a role of major importance in the fighting in Europe during the coming decisive period of battle for that continent.

In the past, military commanders as a rule paid little attention to the behavior of the element and often paid heavy penalties for their disregard. It is a matter of record that Napoleon probably lost the decisive battle of Waterloo because of a storm that bogged down the footing and rendered the pay-off charges of his grenadiers impossible. In Napoleon's ill-starred invasion of Russia also, weather played a tremendous part.

In the scientific war of today weather prediction occupies a position of great importance, with expert meteorological staffs constantly engaged in plotting the probabilities for all the important combatant nations. Not only are records of the past carefully compiled and scanned, but observation stations are maintained all over the world in an effort to locate the brewing of storms and to predict the behavior of the elements as far as possible in advance.

In Russia Also

Other theater of war in which weather is likely to play an important part is Russia. The vast Soviet territory is now undergoing its seasonal drying-out period. Following spring thaws and rains. By this time, thawing has advanced far north of Leningrad, with most of the Russian steppes a sea of mud. On the southern end of the line the drying-out period is far advanced.

In the past campaigning weather has usually opened on the whole of the long Russian front sometime in June. The past winter's Russian has been unusually mild, but the exact condition at present is a military secret. When the ground is dry and hard on a broad enough front, fireworks may be expected.

"They seemed to find it very interesting," said Henderson.

Although he was roaming around Hollidaysia at night minus permission, it is expected Henderson's commanding officer will be lenient in view of his impressive assemblage of Japs.

"They looked depressed," he added, "and I don't blame them. They have a rather sad life, you know."

Fourth Term Impetus

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The reelection of Senator Hill in Alabama and Senator Pepper in Florida is bound to give a new impetus to the fourth term drive. It may help to resolve any lingering doubts President Roosevelt has in his mind.

Against highly organized opposition, well supplied with money, two New Deal senators invoked the Roosevelt name to win. Impressive victories, they will be carefully analyzed by every politician in the land.

Especially Hill, who has come through with a substantial majority, can take a lot of credit for his win. He had only one opponent, sole State Senator James Simpson. Simpson had the powerful backing of the business community in Birmingham.

Pepper's Margin Smaller

Winning by a much narrower margin, Pepper's victory was divided between four opponents. At the same time, however, the campaign against him was more virulent with perhaps even more money spent to defeat a man who described himself as merely—so far as the opposition was concerned—a symbol of FDR.

Pepper had the formidable emulor of wealthy northerners who have established residence in the resort state. That, of course, is an important reason why Palm Beach went against the New Dealer. The northerners could contribute handsomely to the huge anti-Pepper war chest.

The success of Hill in particular is a definite rebuke to the forces within the south that have sought to block Roosevelt. In their hatred of the New Deal they have been more than willing to accept defeat if it meant an end of the Roosevelt regime. Now they've been set back in a state vote of the deep south.

That much is clear even though the anti-New Dealer did not dare to denounce Roosevelt directly but kept pounding at "regimentation" and "bureaucracy" in Washington. On the other hand, Pepper, and to a lesser degree Hill, had to go a long way to justify their victory. The New Dealer from the Florida cane breaks rank the changes on "white supremacy."

Opposition in Rural Areas

The two victories tend to confirm what was already fairly obvious: that the Roosevelt opposition is in the rural areas while the strength of the New Deal in the cities seems to be holding. Tampa and Miami went strongly for Pepper and he ran behind in rural precincts.

I've expressed my belief that President Roosevelt would run again for re-election. Among some in the inner circle, however, the fourth term is not taken for granted. Although he is completely out of politics, Colonel James Roosevelt, the president's son, expressed a doubt as to the fourth term in a recent visit to Washington. He talked of the disaffection on the west coast where he lived before he went to war.

What the western states will do in the fall has a lot more bearing on the fourth term than the state of mind of the deep south which will go Democratic in any event. Conflicting reports reach Washington as to political conditions in the western tier of states.

Chance's Slim In West

I've talked with knowing observers back from there who say that Jimmy Roosevelt, that FDR's chances are slim in California, Oregon and Washington. Other observers, with equal reason to know, say the opposite—that the president is strong there.

The state of Washington should be safest were it not for the fact that the name of Senator Homer T. Bone will be missing from the ticket. Bone, appointed to a federal circuit judgeship, has been one of the most courageous of those senators who are rated in general on the New Deal side.

Incidentally, the bit of petty politics aimed at forcing him out of Washington as soon as his judgeship appointment was confirmed has backfired. Bone is still in naval medical hospital here trying to cover from the effects of a serious injury of some years ago.

Add the results in the recent Oklahoma congressional election to Alabama and Florida and it would seem obvious that a "down with the New Deal" campaign cannot win. That may have been the real meaning of Tuesday's voting.

Question: Is it always necessary for the bride to furnish gloves and hose for her bridesmaids and matron-of-honor? I feel that this would be a little steep for me. Can it be dispensed with?—Kitty.
Answer: Sometimes, a bride instead of giving her attendants gifts, will supply each with an item of apparel to be worn at the wedding. It may be a hat, gloves or stockings. But it is not necessary for a bride to supply these items and present her bridesmaids with gifts too. Either would be sufficient. ## Not Full Support

WASHINGTON, May 6. FAILURE of Mrs. Roosevelt to face squarely and deal firmly with vital domestic issues is generally attributed to a combination of his fourth-term candidacy and his labor alliances. If there is any other adequate explanation it has not been advanced. Certainly it is true that there is concern among men highly placed in the war effort.

THE BEST illustration of all this is the sad state of the national service proposal. Recent announcements that the President will prolong his vacation in the South after work or so (which means that he will have been away a month) still further depresses those who regard this as the most important measure that has been presented to Congress in a long time and know there is no chance for its enactment unless the full weight of the President is exerted for it.

PROSPECTS THAT this will be done are not good. The only way in which the bill can be passed is by centering public opinion behind it and that cannot be done actively except with the earnest and full cooperation of the President. There is no other way by which the facts can be driven home to the people and the opposition that has developed be dissipated by a popular patriotic outcry. Under the circumstances it seems worth while to review the record on this proposal.

IT WAS on January 11—nearly four months ago—that Mr. Roosevelt urged Congress to pass such legislation, asserting that it was requested by army, navy and Marine time Commission heads, who agreed that it was essential to win the war. Unfortunately, the President linked the proposal with four others, saying that he would not recommend national service without these. It was so clear at the time that Mr. Roosevelt's conditions could not be met that his recommendation lacked the force it otherwise might have had and gave rise to some feeling that he was not wholeheartedly for it—certainly not as strongly as were the combined chiefs of staff.

On January 12, the Messrs. Green and Murray, labor leaders, conferred with Mr. Roosevelt for 90 minutes and left the White House endorsing the plan and proclaiming their opposition to the bill. On January 21, the National Negro Council, through its director, Edward Brown, took a stand against it.

BUT SECRETARY of War Stimson, Under Secretary Patterson, Secretary of Navy Knox, Under Secretary Forrestal, Maritime Commission Chief Emory Land, General Marshall and Admiral King made earnest pleas for the passage of the bill. However, for manpower Commissioner McNutt declared first, then against national service, reversed himself twice more and finally wound up advising Congress it was "unnecessary at this time."

There later developed some opposition from business organizations, but the main hostility came from the labor organizations and the main fight has been made by them.

FOR WEEKS before he went away strong efforts were made to get the President to make another recommendation, unequivocal and without strings. But these were not successful and the national service chances are low, indeed. It is a distressing state of affairs. The boast of Congress has been that while it has rejected Roosevelt recommendations on domestic affairs, it has given him everything he asked for for the conduct of the war. And the President is now being put forth for a fourth term on the ground that the military authorities have his complete support, are in complete accord with him and his reelection is essential to the conduct of the war.

YET HERE is a case in which Congress is refusing an unanimous recommendation of our armed service for a measure they insist is necessary to a speedy and crushing victory. And here is the President heartily endorsing their recommendation, permitting one of his aides to array himself publicly against it and himself allowing it to languish because of the feebleness of his advocacy. On the basis of that record it is a little difficult to see how it can be argued that Mr. Roosevelt's reelection is essential to the conduct of the war, that no other man is fit to be Commander in Chief, that our military heads, who map strategy and are responsible for victory, get from him the fullest cooperation and support.

ON TREATMENT OF SON'S WIFE

"My only son is about to marry and I want to do everything 'possible' to establish an entirely cordial so that there will never be any estrangement between him and me. Can you give me any advice?"
—Mother-in-law-to-be.
Answer: First of all forget that his wife is an in-law. That word, which I sometimes think should be banished from our language, conjures up suggestions which frequently put up an insurmountable barrier. Why should we feel any more restrained with our in-laws than we do with our friends? Treat her as you would your own daughter, with this exception: Keep all unsolicited suggestions to yourself.

Advice coming from a mother-in-law is often interpreted as unwanted interference or as a command. Never drop in, uninvited, to visit her for even an afternoon or an evening. If you would like to make a call, telephone first to ascertain if the moment will be propitious.

Regardless of her extravagance with your son's hard-earned, scanty salary, do not remind her of it. Let your son work out this problem with her. If you have household items that you would like to share with them, do so in such a way that she can gracefully decline if she does not want them. Be generous with your invitations to meals. Most brides find cooking a hardship and enjoy occasional relief from it.

When they have children, refrain from criticizing her "newfangled" ideas about child-rearing, which is one of the sore spots with young mothers. They believe that it is imperative for junior to have his orange juice, mashed bananas and cereal at regular intervals, despite mother-in-law's stories of how she brought up six healthy children without the aid of such modern "fads."

Increase In Pacific War Tempo Is Seen
Hope Held For Low Invasion Casualties
Press Is Invited To Monetary ConferenceBy HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Look for a sudden and startling increase in the tempo of the Pacific war—the Japanese on the receiving end.

America's naval might, from all present signs, has been built up to the extent that smashing simultaneous blows can be struck in the Central Pacific, the Philippines, and even in the Bay of Bengal and the Indian ocean.

In recent speeches by the Navy's top admirals—those in charge of naval strategy—one line has reappeared many times. It's we may strike "sooner than you think."

The Allied naval blow against Sabang, Sumatra, from a newly-constituted naval force based in India is but a forerunner of many such blows to be struck throughout the Dutch East Indies, and in the area of Singapore.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's audacious landings on the northern New Guinea coast is another straw in the wind. And air and naval actions in the Central Pacific, under Admiral Chester Nimitz's command, foreshadow long strides that may be taken in that area toward the Philippines and China.

It all shapes up to indicate that one of F. D. R.'s less quoted predictions—that Germany and Japan would hit simultaneous blows—may yet eventuate.

Cross-Channel Jitters

Invasion-minded Washington, like the rest of the country, has been struck by the cross-channel jitters, and the result is delay on all fronts.

Congress, which has its collective mind on the June and July political conventions, is curiously slow in making decisions on important matters. Price control, lend-lease and the potentially obstructionist anti-poll tax bill are still marking time. Government workers in vital agencies are more concerned with the actual date of the invasion and pools flourish while the routine of every-day work proceeds apace.

Army-Navy officials are becoming more sanguine about Allied chances of storming Hitler's European fortress with low casualties.

The Internal Revenue Bureau, which has always taken the brunt of squawks about income taxes, really originated the income tax simplification plan which the House ways and means committee has approved.

The IRB would welcome simplification provisions and hopes Congress approves them. It would mean a lot less work for the bureau.

In fact, work volume would be so reduced that the bureau could readily shoulder the job of computing the income tax of about 30 million persons—a task the bill would impose on the tax-collecting agency.

Shoes To Be Scarcer

The International Monetary Conference which President Roosevelt is expected to call probably will not be held before June, at the earliest.

As a location of the meeting in all likelihood will not be Washington—not enough hotel facilities. The location probably will be some large resort hotel within about 200 or 250 miles of the capital.

One thing has been made clear by treasury officials—the press will be welcome.

Because of leather and manpower shortages, fewer shoes will be made this year, the total output reaching only 405 to 410 million pairs compared to the 460-odd million pairs made last year. The reduction, however, is not expected to result in tighter rations because there still will be enough shoes to grant two pairs per civilian per year—the current rate.

The Parent Problem

By GARY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

FORM CHURCH-GOING HABIT EARLY

Often in this column I have urged parents to go to church, hoping their religious gain therefrom might make them pleasant to their children. Now it's time to go to church.

Said a local judge at a discussion with parents: "Fewer boys would consider religion a silly business if more fathers went to church regularly." I replied, "Same as washing dishes." His remark came in response to Mrs. Myers when she said it would be fine if our sons took religion with them to war.

Yet only a small proportion of the young men in their teens have been going to church; not many more of their sisters. The church audiences of the United States are made up chiefly of middle-aged and older persons; and most of them are women. When I happen to drop into a church service somewhere in the nation, I keep asking as a rule, "Where are the older children?"

Youth Should Participate

When one does see a good many youths, these youths are participating: singing in the choir or ushering, for example. Only recently in a New England church, built in 1738, I saw four lads of about fourteen taking up the offering. Splendid. Now and then I (Continued On Page Seven)

LIFE

By ERIC BRANDEIS

George McManus, creator of Jiggs and Maggie, told me this little Hollywood story at dinner last night.

A movie actor was taking his dog for a walk on Sunset boulevard. An acquaintance stopped him and said:

"My what a beautiful dog. Must have cost you a pretty penny!"
"Yes," said the movie actor, "that dog cost me $100,000."
"A hundred thousand dollars for a dog?" exclaimed the acquaintance, "Cash?"
"No," said the actor. "I traded him in for two $50,000 cats."

Yes, ladies and gentlemen, that's Hollywood—and that's life. Everything has to be big, important, expensive.

To paraphrase Shakespeare, every little actor wants to play a big part. I just came in on the train with an advertising man.

He told me that he was somewhat up against it. I couldn't understand it. He had always made a good money. He should have a lot saved up.

"No," he said. "I didn't save a dime."

When he was making $12,000 a year, they moved to an expensive neighborhood. They wanted to give their boy and their girl "every opportunity."

They bought a house for $32,000 with a $28,000 mortgage on it. They sent the kids to fashionable private schools. They had to have two automobiles and a maid.

They joined country clubs and "were seen."

The kids grew up. The daughter is married; the boy is in the army.

The two are alone—well along in life. No money saved up, new living in a small apartment and not knowing whether they can keep that up.

Another friend of mine bought himself a nice little house and is saving money.

Like a sensible fellow he sold his car and takes the bus to work. It's cheaper.

He has two children, one six, one four.

But the kids are being taunted by their playmates.

"Why doesn't your father have a car?" they ask.

And "Daddy, why haven't we a car when everybody else has one?" they ask him when he comes home at night from a hard day's work.

We were talking about it a couple of days ago. It's hard to explain things like that to children," he said. "I don't want them to get an inferiority complex."

Yes, it is hard to explain things like that to kids.

But maybe George McManus' story of the $100,000 dog will help.

Children should learn early in life that there is a difference between real and imaginary values.

IDEAS and the War

All of the heroes in this war are not on the firing line. An equal number are on the production line. They are the individuals that, in addition to their manual efforts to produce armament, have given mental effort towards finding new and better methods.

Industry in general and Johnson Bronze in particular learned long ago that no one individual in any concern has a monopoly on ideas. While a separate department exists for the sole purpose of developing better methods, a considerable number of really good ideas come from the men and women workers.

We call these individuals "Industrial Heroes". We recognize this contribution towards VICTORY with a handsome gold pin. Then the suggestion or idea is classified as to its real worth. This classification brings a financial prize in War Bond or Stamps. No prize is ever below $500.00. Since the inauguration of this system two years ago, over 200 worthwhile ideas have been submitted.

Most of these ideas are helping our company to get more of our product out to the fighting front today. Tomorrow they will give us an added advantage in meeting peace time competition.

FLASH

Admiral E. J. King, USN, Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Fleet, wires the employees of Johnson Bronze as follows—

THE HAZARDS OF LANDING OPERATIONS DEMAND THE HIGHEST EFFICIENCY AND RELIABILITY IN EACH TYPE OF CRAFT TO BE USED. AS OUR ENEMIES ARE DRIVEN BACK, ADDITIONAL LANDING CRAFT IN EVER-INCREASING NUMBERS WILL BECOME MORE THAN EVER AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY. AN INCREASING NUMBER OF AMPHIBIOUS ASSAULTS WILL TAKE PLACE AS FAST AS OUR LANDING CRAFT REQUIREMENTS ARE FILLED. TO YOU MEN AND WOMEN WHO ARE WORKING TO PRODUCE THIS VITAL EQUIPMENT, THE NAVY SAYS, "FULL SPEED AHEAD."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

hear of a church with some teenage youngsters on its board. Whereas we need to let more of the young people participate, and have more interesting church services, in order to attract more of them to church and Sunday school, I believe there might also be another appeal.

Because a great many youths read this column and discuss it in their classes at school, I venture to address them now directly: Many of you are thinking pretty seriously in these times, thinking of your place in this democracy right now and in the postwar days. You like to measure values for yourselves. You know that neither you nor anybody else can gain greatest personal values from doing only what you feel at the moment like doing.

Spiritual Values

While it may be far more pleasant to sleep late on Sunday morning (especially after you have been out late the night before), or to sit listening to the radio, or reading the paper, you probably agree with me that to make yourself go regularly to church to worship and nurture your spiritual life can, as a rule, have greater values for you.

Even if being at church did you no more good than staying at home, you still might gain tremendously from the self-discipline thereby. Is it not true that whatever we make ourselves do for an ideal helps us gain in moral and spiritual growth? You, being young idealists, want, I am sure, to feel you are the masters of your own fate. Then if, as you probably do, put a high value on spiritual growth, you will want to make yourself do what you believe will contribute to this growth.

Human Nature's impulses which make us somewhat akin to the brute, hold our attention only on the here-and-now. Religion emphasizes the long view. Don't you think it would contribute mightily to our morale at home and on the fighting front if boys and girls of high school age were, in great numbers and of their own accord, to attend church services regularly?

Lawrence County Commissioners to M. Dale Andrews, North Beaver township, $150.

RULES OF CONDUCT

In the office of Judges W. Walter Braham there is a new set of rules of conduct for judges. Not exactly new either for they were first set down back in the 17th century.

The rules are described as "Rules for Judicial Conduct" and the subtitle is "Things Necessary to Be Continually Had in Remembrance". They are the work of Sir Matthew Hale, Kt., who was lord chief justice of the English Exchequer from 1660 to 1671, and lord chief justice of England from 1671 to 1676.

In all there are 18 rules of conduct, practically all of them applicable to judges of the present day. But the one that struck us counter-blow. Other German raids were turned back along the main Fifth Army front and on the upper reaches of the Garigliano river where the Nazis made an unsuccessful attempt to cross the stream in rubber boats.

Machine-guns, mortars and light artillery pieces duelled in the Cassino sector.

At the Margaret Henry Home today, dinner was served in tribute to the memory of the late Marcus Feuchtwanger, the event being made possible through the courtesy of his daughter, Mrs. Alice Feuchtwanger Simon and her father-in-law, David Simon of Philadelphia.

Today, May 6, marks the birthday of the late Mr. Feuchtwanger, who was a leading citizen of New Castle, and who took a special interest in the progress of the Margaret Henry Home for Children, on which board he served as president.

Mrs. Lydia Green, matron of the Henry Home, announces that in addition to the preparing of the dinner, a floral centerpiece will grace the main table, and a short memorial was to be conducted by the children.

Food Conservation Committee Named

In connection with the Victory Garden campaign for New Castle which it is hoped will result in more people raising vegetables to assist with the war effort this summer, Chairman Charles G. Lindner has appointed a food conservation committee, consisting of Mrs. Paul T. Hoagland, chairman; Mrs. Carl Andree and Mrs. J. E. White.

This committee will assist with the arrangement of canning and preserving demonstrations during the coming summer, to enable housewives to conserve the food that is raised in home gardens.

LEADING THE INVASION WILL BE AMERICAN TRUCKS

"D" Day isn't far off—just when it will be only a few people know—but whenever the invasion starts, you will find American trucks up in the front. Not all delivery trucks of course—some of them are called tanks—signal trucks—half tracks—but every one of them is an American truck with battle dress on.

And after the invasion is rolling, the need for supplies becomes paramount—and again American trucks will be on the job. Brigadier-General Robert H. Wylie, Deputy Chief of Transportation U. S. Army, recently said "the trucking industry has provided the difference between failure and achievement in the war effort."

We can't improve upon that statement. But we would like to add, that when peace comes, American trucks and American truckers will be on the job to give this nation an even better system of motor transportation than it has enjoyed. For the trucking industry has the "know how" of safe, speedy, economic transportation.

'BIG TWELVE,' GRID DREAM FOR YEARS, HAS COME TRUE

TYRONE, Pa., May 6.—The "Big 12"—a dream of central Pennsylvania high school grid fans for years—today was a reality with formation of the Central County Scholastic Football League.

With the avowed objective of "getting away from championship and post-season games," the conference's membership includes, Di-Bois, Punxsutawney, Clearfield, Mt. Union, Philipsburg, Tyrone, Hollidaysburg, Huntingdon, State College, Bellefonte, Lock Haven and Lewisburg.

High school principals and grid coaches from these schools met here yesterday to elect officers and unanimously adopt a ruling to select an outstanding team each year on a basis of won-lost figures and "for general sportsmanship and team ability."

Raymond Getty, Huntingdon high school principal, president of the new loop, said at least four league games would have to be played by each entrant to qualify for the 1944 title and at least five in 1945. The league will decide the qualifying minimum later for succeeding years.

Grim Is Named Manager Of Cubs

CHICAGO, May 6.—(INS)—Charley Grimm on Friday was named manager of the Chicago Cubs to succeed Jimmy Wilson, who resigned Monday.

Grimm previously managed the Cubs for six seasons, twice winning the National league championship. "Der Kaptin," as he is affectionately known, was relieved of his managerial duties July 20, 1933, when he was succeeded by Gabby Hartnett.

Phils Display Amazing Stride, So Do Yankees

By JOHN CASHMAN (International News Service Writer)

NEW YORK, May 6.—(INS)—That this is one of the most unusual seasons ever enjoyed by the major leagues can easily be deduced from the fact that the Philadelphia Phillies, supposedly the silly willies of baseball, today are fighting with the lordly St. Louis Cardinals for first place in the National league.

Usually, at this time of the season, the Phillies have retired to the cellar or the environs thereof with the request that they be left undisturbed.

Phils Top Dodgers
Had the Cards played the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, as scheduled, and lost to the Redlegs, the Phillies now would be in first place. In the absence of such a miracle, however, the Phillies will have to be content with second place after thrashing the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 to 1, and breaking a tie for the second niche with the Reds.

The New York Giants danced between the first and second divisions with their second straight loss to the Boston Braves, 3 to 2, in 11 innings.

Yanks Win Fifth
Over in the American league, the New York Yankees gained their fifth straight yesterday with the courtesy of the Boston Red Sox, 11 to 7.

It was a wild fray in Shibe park as the Washington Senators came from behind to whip the Philadelphia Athletics, 11 to 8, on two ninth-inning home runs by Joe Kuhel and Stan Spence. Both teams reaped out the amazing total of 33 hits, with the Senators edging out the A's 17 safeties to 16.

Bad weather caused the postponement of the Browns-Indians and Tigers-White Sox games.

CLOUDY SKIES AT LOUISVILLE TODAY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—(INS)—Cloudy skies prevailed over derby day Louisville today with the temperature hovering in the low 50's.

The U. S. weather bureau predicted the temperature wouldn't climb above 54 degrees at any time during the day, giving little promise of any improvement in track conditions after considerable previous rainfall.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Russell Lee Battley, HA2-C, former basketball player at New Castle high has been transferred from the U.S.N. Corps school at San Diego, Calif., to H.C.Q. Corona, Calif. . . . Butler plans a dog show this summer . . . Clem Crowe will serve as acting head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Notre Dame for the duration . . . Blackie Funderbush of West Pittsburg is requested to call the News sports department.

Leonard Lawton, Sharpville, pulled in a 24 1/2-inch, 5 1/2-pound sucker fish from the Shenango river near the Sharon-Sharpville dividing line. The fish, commonly called "red horse suckers" by anglers, is the largest of its type ever reported in that vicinity. Lawton, who is an employee on the night turn shift at Westinghouse, hooked the fish on a casting rod and was using a worm for bait. He was alone at the time. He has been fishing for more than 15 years and is an ardent sportsman, belonging to Western Reserve Fish and Game Protective association, according to the Sharon Herald. Concerning big trout caught here, The News sports editor heard yesterday that Charlie Pugh had caught a 23 1/2-inch in the Neshaunock that weighed three pounds.

E. L. Mortimer clocked the winning pigeon Wednesday in the second old bird race of the season held by the Butler County Racing Pigeon club, according to the Butler Eagle. The winning bird was liberated at 7:35 a. m. and was clocked in Butler at 9:30 a. m. after covering 82 miles from Dennison, O., an average of 1198.67 yards a minute. Ed Leadbeater's pigeon was second with 1170.58 yards a minute. One hundred and fifty birds were entered from 16 lofts in Butler county. According to items in various tri-state newspaper, racing of pigeons is making a come-back. Some years ago New Castle had a Pigeon Fanciers' club which held weekly races. Considerable rivalry existed between the fanciers and interest was keen.

MEMORY OF EQUIPOISE WILL BE PERPETUATED

CHICAGO, May 6.—(INS)—In memory of his horse Equipoise, who set a new world record time, 1:34-2-5 for the mile, Col. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney has contributed a challenge cup as a trophy for the Equipoise mile at Arlington Park. The cup must be won three times by a single owner to obtain permanent possession. The Equipoise mile for the cup and $10,000 added this year will be run on June 24, first Saturday of the Arlington-Washington Park 70-day meeting (June 19-September 7).

Equipoise won over the fleet Jamestown in world record time, a mark which still stands, on June 30, 1932. Six years later, after four seasons at stud, Equipoise died at the age of ten.

As a permanent memorial to the world's record holder, Arlington Park added the Equipoise mile, a handicap for 3-year-olds and upwards, to its array of stakes in 1941.

All-time leader of the sire list, reckoned on the basis of the average money earned per foal, Equipoise had but four crops of foals, totaling 74, to represent him. Fifty-two of his sons and daughters were winners, nine of them stake winners. They included Shut Out, Equipet and Lotopouse. Many others won in high class company.

Judy Garland Asks For Divorce Today

HOLLYWOOD, May 6.—(INS)—Another "ideal" Hollywood marriage ended up on the rocks of divorce today.

Judy Garland, 21-year-old actress, charged mental cruelty when she filed suit for divorce against Dave Rose, musical composer and arranger, now an army air corps sergeant.

"For more than a year," said Miss Garland, "he caused me great embarrassment and grievous mental suffering."

They were married on July 23, 1941, at Las Vegas, Nev., and separated Feb. 2, 1943. Rose formerly was married to Actress Martha Raye.

Lewis' Terms Are Again Refused

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—(INS)—John L. Lewis today again was denied readmission of his United Mine Workers into the American Federation of Labor under terms he dictated to the organization's executive council.

AFL President William Green, at the council's spring sessions in Philadelphia, said the UMW would not be taken back on any terms except those laid down by the federation and "that clears the slate as far as the Lewis matter goes."

Meadville To Provide Test

New Castle High Track Team Meets Crackerjack Meadville Team Here Monday

Coach Bill Klee after a week of rehearsal has his New Castle High track team in the best of shape for the gruelling dual meet with the strong Meadville high team at Taggart stadium Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Elated over the showing made against Butler's crack team, Klee is satisfied that his Red and Black thin-clads will be on top Monday when the chips are all counted.

Meadville comes here with a well balanced team as usual, and will be favorites to cop the meet, as the Crawford countenances year after year turn out cracker-jack track stars.

Interest Heightens
Considerable interest in the broadjump will no doubt take place following what transpired when Bill Walls broke the 23-year-old record held by Coach Klee. Both Campbell and Garberry have declared themselves ready to go after the record now held by young Walls.

New Castle is depending a good bit on young Buzzer Panella in the sprints as he is the only man with any actual experience available for the Meadville meet.

New Castle is looking ahead to the annual WPAL track and field championships to be staged at the Conellsville High stadium Saturday, May 20. Coach Bill Klee has hopes of New Castle picking up quite a few points in the annual schoolboy tests.

Highland Floor Team Honored

Championship Junior Basketball Team Members Given Medals

Honoring the Highland U. P. junior basketball team of the church floor league, the Men's Bible class gave a dinner last evening in the church basement. Ralph Davis, representing the men's class, presided over the event.

After an informal dinner the boys listened to a fine talk by their coach, Joe Hartman. "Butch" Winters of the "Y" was a guest and spoke after which he gave each of the team members medals, designating their championship. Rev. Ferguson also spoke to the champions. Dick Whitaker and Bob Reed in behalf of the junior team spoke and thanked the men's class and the coach for their support during the past year.

PETERSON RETURNS
Jim Peterson, who was a pitcher for the A's in 1929, is back on the job again for Connie Mack, but the aged manager hasn't announced his duties.

Dates for the Saratoga race meeting are July 31 through September 2, but it is up to Governor Tom Dewey where the meet will be held.

BUCK PLAYER--WITH WOODEN LEG

DESPITE THE FACT he has only one leg, Johny Brehm, freshman, is playing first base for the Ohio State Buckeyes, defending champion in the Western Conference baseball race. Brehm lost his left leg just below the knee when he was three years old. Despite the handicap he can run fast enough and handles himself well about the bag. (International)

THEY STARRED IN WOMEN'S NATIONAL A. A. U. SWIM

U. S. SWIM QUEENS emerging with assorted titles at the National A. A. U. event in Oakland, Cal., for a picture. Expect 60,000 To Witness Derby At Churchill Downs

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—(INS)—It was derby day at Churchill Downs again today and for the 70th time since a chestnut colt named Aristides won the first running in 1875, this city was thrilled to the event.

Despite the war and the lack of a single outstanding three-year-old in the big event the race once more transcended all others in interest, not only in the blue grass country but throughout the country.

Some 60,000 spectators will crowd the stands—from the 50 cent bleacher seat to the $18.50 box seat—will watch the third wartime running of the derby.

Favor Stir Up
Stir up from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable, was the pre-race favorite at 8 to 5. Victorias during the winter, plus Eddie Arcaro as jockey, made him the choice of the crowd.

After that one guess appeared as good as another—Warren Wright's Pensive, O. E. Breaux's Challenge Mr. Mrs. George Poulson's Broadcloth and M. B. Goff's Skytracser rating the best of the others.

Nineteen horses were listed this morning as possible starters, giving the race a gross value of $88,200 and a first prize of $66,700.

The mile and a quarter race will begin about 3:15 p. m. CWT and will be broadcast by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Australia now has sit-down strikes.

Bartolo Trims Phil Terranova

BOSTON, May 6.—(INS)—Boston's Sal Bartolo was still featherweight boxing champion of the National Boxing Association today after his decision over Phil Terranova of the Bronx in a 15-round fight. Bartolo outweighed Terranova by half a pound when he weighed in at 126 pounds.

Sports Center At Camp Takes Shape

GREENVILLE, Pa., May 6.—The Outdoor Sports Center at Camp Reynolds, located in the rear of Recreation Hall 2475, is having its GI face lifted in preparation for an early opening. Focal point of the area is a solid log cabin, looking as though it might have migrated here from the shore of a lonely lake.

The center provides facilities for archery, golf practice, badminton, volleyball and horse-shoe pitching.

UMPIRES TO MEET

Tonight at the "Y" at 8 o'clock the members of the Lawrence County Umpires association will stage their first meeting of the year. Leo W. Hill will preside at the session.

More than 80 per cent of all automobiles in pre-war Greece were of American origin.

IRREGULAR TONE IN STOCK MARKET

Industrials Enjoy Some Support Today With Utilities Reacting

NEW YORK, May 6.—(INS)—The stock market was irregular today, industrials enjoying some support while railroads and utilities reacted.

The day's chief play went to the liquor shares, rounding out nearly an entire week in which the issues led the market, both in activity and in strength.

Activity was pronounced in the Austin Nichols common and "A" issues which started higher at the start and kept going to the close. The common rose better than a point to 11 1/2, while the A went 2 1/2 points better before giving away fractionally at the close.

Park and Tilson, whose liquor distribution dividend is expected next week, was 1 1/2 points higher at 93 1/2, a new high for the year. The rest of the market failed to move more than fractions Chrysler rose 1/4 to 84 1/2, but General Motors held unchanged. Bethlehem reacted 1/2 in the steels and U. S. Steel compensated for it with an equal rise.

Rails were weaker, Atchafalpa giving up the most, 1/4 point.

Chemicals were quiet, as were aviation, oil, farm equipments and merchandising shares. Utilities were about unchanged.

IRREGULAR TONE IN STOCK MARKET

Industrials Enjoy Some Support Today With Utilities Reacting

NEW YORK, May 6.—(INS)—The stock market was irregular today, industrials enjoying some support while railroads and utilities reacted.

The day's chief play went to the liquor shares, rounding out nearly an entire week in which the issues led the market, both in activity and in strength.

Activity was pronounced in the Austin Nichols common and "A" issues which started higher at the start and kept going to the close. The common rose better than 2 points to 11 1/2 while the A went 2 1/2 points better before giving away fractionally at the close.

Park and Tilford, whose liquor distribution dividend is expected next week, was 1 1/2 points higher at 9 3/4, a new high for the year.

The rest of the market failed to move more than fractions Chrysler rose 1/4 to 8 1/4, but General Motors held unchanged. Bethlehem reacted 1/2 in the steels and U. S. Steel compensated for it with an equal rise.

Rails were weaker, Atchafalup giving up the most, 1/4 point. Chemicals were quiet, as were aviation, oils, farm equipments and merchandising shares. Utilities were about unchanged.

RAGING 'OLD MAN RIVER' BREAKS LOOSE AGAIN

FLOOD AND DESTRUCTION are unleashed (above) as the mighty Mississippi River, swollen by floodwaters from all its upper tributaries, tops the sand-bagged Chouteau Island levee near St. Louis and goes roaring out across thousands of acres of low-lying farm land. The farm in the background is typical of hundreds being covered by the river, now at its highest stage in 100 years. (International Soundphoto)

Gymnast Gamu Annual Event Here Since 1923

Large Attendance Is Indicated For Sessions To Be Held Sunday

Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, announces that this series of song tests, or Welsh hymn singing assemblies, were initiated here in 1923, and has been held without a break upon the first Sunday in May.

During this period, some of the finest directors among American Welsh musicians have deemed it an honor to be invited to direct the singing. Delegates from All-quippa, Johnstown, Youngstown, Warren, Akron, Sharon, Farrell, have already accepted invitations to attend.

The director, Mr. William R. Hughes, will be the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Jones. The customary congregational singing of the great Welsh hymns of the church will be supplemented by vocal solos.

Mr. Hughes will give a demonstration of the old Welsh technique of Psalm singing to the strains of the harp. He holds the National Eisteddfod prizes at Neath and Birkenhead, South Wales and England, for this peculiar type of singing. He holds from a distinguished line of great leaders, Arwel Hughes, of the British Broadcasting System, and Dr. John Hughes, formerly of Treorci, South Wales, but now government supervisor of music for North Wales.
